Jean Smart (24) makes a pie that's perfect for a big party—part of Martha's May Celebrations. Plus, meet Julian Pavone, a two-year-old prodigy who plays the drums like a pro. Then, Meredith Brokaw, wife of Tom Brokaw, and author Ellen Wright talk about their new cookbook and make Cold Grapefruit Soufflé with Pistachios. And, learn how you could win $10,000 to throw your own party.

Martha's Tip of the Day:

Banish messy spills and drips when using craft paint. Slide a rubber band over the open can, then gently wipe the bottom of the brush against the band each time you dip. This is perfect for small containers without handles. The brush will be less drippy and the can's rim will stay clean, making it easier to put the lid on when you're finished.
